

New Information on Tibetan Refugees in India

25X1

25X1

25X1

[redacted], about five to six thousand Tibetan refugees are now in India -- Sikkim and Bhutan.

Perhaps as many as 20,000 are expected to come over in the next six months. Entry is still taking place in small groups in isolated areas. Presence of the refugees is not generally known since they are still in the high regions and living mostly in the monasteries.

25X1